Damage totaled more than $5,000 but no one was injured in accidents investigated over the weekend by state police.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock damage totaled $2,500 when two cars collided four miles north of here on the road from Mummaburg to Van Dyke's Corner.

Owens, 48, Chambersburg R. 3, was driving east and came upon a line of cars slowing ahead of him. Damage totaled $40 when two cars collided at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Cross Keys Rd. 3 1/2 miles north of Hanover. Police said William Altizer, 48, Shippenburg R. 3, was driving north as was Larry E. Gable, 24, New Oxford. Both cars sought to pass other vehicles in the line of traffic simultaneously and the Altizer auto struck the rear of the Gable car, causing $30 damage to Altizer's sedan and $10 to Gable's vehicle.

SEEK CIVIL WAR EVENTS TO MARK ON ANNIVERSARY

The Gettysburg Civil War Round Table today asked for suggestions of events to celebrate in connection with the 100th anniversary of the Civil War.

The appeal is made as a result of a letter received by Jacob M. Sheads, secretary of the Round Table, from Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III, chairman of the national Civil War Centennial Commission.

According to General Grant's letter: "The Civil War Centennial Commission desires to compile a list of events and activities suitable for commemoration during the approaching centennial years. Listing of military and naval engagements will present no special problem, but other types of events, and especially those not directly related to military operations, being less widely publicized than military affairs, may easily be overlooked."

Cites Illustrations

In asking the local Round Table to forward suggestions for observances, Grant wrote, "Other types of activity that come to mind as suitable for observance include: establishment of war plants, launching of war craft; participation of railroads in troop movements; invention and perfection of new weapons; development of new techniques, products and processes which contributed to the war effort; founding of important institutions, or businesses whose inception was related to the conflict; notable contributions in combating subversive activities; outstanding achievements of teachers, ministers, doctors and other civilians; establishment and meritorious accomplishments of civilian groups or agencies such as schools, churches, women's relief organization, the Sanitary Commission and the Christian Commission."

"Local incidents of far reaching significance, such as the sinking of the U. S. S. Housatonic in Charleston harbor, February 17, 1864, by the Confederate submarine, the H. L. Huntley, the first instance in the history of warfare of a war vessel being sunk by a submarine, are another type of event."

Teachers were urged to promote enrollments. The church's board of deacons is offering some camp scholarships, the group was told.

CITE MILESTONE IN LUTHERANISM AT GETTYSBURG

The founding of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary is listed as a "Lutheran milestone" by Loo' magazine in an article on "The Lutherans" in its April 1 edition.

The article is one of a series being printed by the magazine under the general heading "The Story of Religions in America."

Twelve events are printed in a box accompanying the article as "Lutheran Milestones" and in that list is: "1826, The first official Synodical Lutheran seminary is established at Gettysburg, Pa., largely through the zealous efforts of Dr. S. S. Schmucker, who becomes its head."

Largest Protestant Body

In the body of the lengthy article on the Lutherans, it is stated, "Later, in 1826, the first official seminary was founded at Gettysburg, Pa., where, in the first 40 years, 500 men were trained for the ministry."

The article says: "An extraordinary transformation in the past few years has been rapidly changing the character and size of the Lutheran churches and synods of America." It notes: "This evangelistic surge is of rather recent origin. The entire denomination has come alive as though it had suddenly decided to make good President Theodore Roosevelt's 53-year-old prophecy that 'the Lutheran Church is destined to become one of the two or three greatest and most important churches in the U. S.'"

Last Thursday was to have been the testing day in Philadelphia but the snow cancelled those plans. Now a new date must be set.

Turned To Red Cross

Mrs. Shull tried first to become a citizen in Colorado last November but the questions stopped her then and after weeks of study she tried again about two weeks ago at Carlisle. That time she passed "with flying colors" until she was asked to read and write English. She had not realized this was required and

Red Cross Here Helps Young Jap Mother Become Citizen So She Can Join Husband

Busy with extra work involved in the current Red Cross fund drive in this county, Mrs. Peggy P. Hill, the chapter's executive secretary, and the office assistant, Miss Jean Bucher, have been taking time out occasionally from those duties to teach an Adams County soldier's Japanese wife to read and write so she can re-join her husband in Germany.

Discouraged by two earlier failures to pass examinations for her American citizenship, which she must obtain before she can go to Germany to live with her husband and their two young children now here with their 21-year-old mother, she turned to the Red Cross 10 days ago.

"She's very intelligent and I know she's going to pass this time," Mrs. Hill said this morning after Mrs. Kazuko Shull, wife of Sgt. William Clayton Shull, Gettysburg R. 1, completed a week of elementary reading and writing lessons from Mrs. Hill and Miss Bucher.

"She can read at a fourth grade level now and she can write better than I can," Mrs. Hill reported proudly as she sought to arrange for Mrs. Shull to have another test from the naturalization authorities. Last Thursday was to have been the testing day in Philadelphia but the snow cancelled those plans. Now a new date must be set.

Mrs. Shull and her two daughters, Sarah Belinda and Grace Ann, are living with Sgt. Shull's parents on R. 1 until she can qualify as a citizen to go to Worms, Germany, where her husband has been stationed since January 28.

The children already are American citizens by birth. Sgt. Shull and Kazuko were married several years ago while he was stationed in Japan. Her father operates a jewelry store and one sister is a teacher.

WILL PRESENT COMEDY REVUE IN FAIRFIELD

The Fairfield Fire Department will present a local talent comedy revue in the Fairfield High School auditorium Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for the benefit of the Fairfield Fire Company's equipment fund, it was announced today.

Kenneth Stiller, chairman of the production committee, said the program will be directed by Miss Juanita Coffey, of Kansas City. Plans call for a "Golden Wedding" couple to be honored each evening of the show. The evening's entertainment will depict events of the last 50 years.

Youngsters In Cast

"A stage full of youngsters who attend Glamour School bring the magic of make-believe and a talent parade will offer rewards and acclaim to clever performers."

"Two citizens of the community will impersonate Bing Crosby and Dinah Shore with songs, skits and the Florodora Girls. There are two proposal scenes, one as it might have happened 50 years ago, and another between two hep-cats."

"Tobey T. Ticklebush and his little (?) brother are a couple of country boys who come to the 'Jubilee' and provide a show of their own. The story of 'Little Red Riding Hood' or 'What Every Girl Should Know When Meeting a Wolf in the Woods' will be acted out by members of the audience."

The first two weeks of the current Easter Seal sale in Adams County has brought in $1,910.75, it was reported today by Mrs. James Parry, member of the board of directors of the Adams County Crippled Children's Society and a member of the society's seal sale committee who is tabulating returns.

The Easter Seal sale which will continue through Easter Sunday is the chief means the Adams County society has for raising funds with which to carry on its program of aiding crippled children and adults. It buys or helps buy braces, special shoes, crutches for crippled youngsters, sends them to clinics for checkups and therapy treatments where parents are unable to finance the treatment program and provides summer camping experience for crippled youngsters from this county in camps conducted by the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Pirates Seized Caesar

It is not entirely clear at just what period in world history piracy began. We do know that it was rampant in the Mediterranean in the days of the Roman Empire. Julius Caesar, when a young man, fell into the clutches of a gang of sea robbers who held him prisoner until ransomed. After his release he returned with a company of soldiers who captured the robbers and crucified the entire crew.

PHONE SERVICE NEAR NORMAL BY THIS EVENING

By this evening, United Telephone Company District Manager John E. Caldwell expects to have telephone service in the Gettysburg district "almost back to normal" after last week's heavy snow that snapped poles and tangled lines in the worst storm damage in years.

With scores of extra workmen brought here from areas to the north and west, Caldwell said there were 150 men working here over Sunday to repair the storm damage. One hundred of them were construction crews and 50 others were maintenance men, he said. Most of the imported helpers are to return to their regular posts today, he added.

"Very Costly Storm"

The trouble spots remaining by this evening will be isolated ones, Mr. Caldwell said, and in most cases will involve some line construction work. There are likely to be more cases of interrupted service reported that have not yet been turned into the office here.

The extra workmen came here from Bedford, Martinsburg, Roaring Springs, Carlisle, Chambersburg, Waynesboro and Shippensburg.

Mr. Caldwell said he is unable to make any estimate of the cost of the snowstorm to the telephone company but agreed it has proved "very costly."

RED CROSS HAS $4,029 SO FAR

The Red Cross fund campaign that opened March 1 and is continuing through the month has brought in $4,029.09 so far, Mrs. Harold R. Streett, county fund campaign chairman, reported today.

A check of chapter records showed the considerably ahead of the total gathered by the same date in last year's campaign. At the end of three weeks last year only $2,201.74 had been turned in.

"We are very much encouraged by the results of our campaign so far," Mrs. Streett said. "However we have a long way to go to get the $17,620 we have set out to raise."

"We believe Adams County people realize the importance of the services that the Red Cross renders here in addition to the disaster relief and other services performed by the national organization."

"The water safety classes in the summer are always very popular and there is every indication that enrollment this year will be the heaviest ever. This Red Cross service, the first aid, home nurse training, blood donor services and the service our staff renders every day to servicemen and their families cost money and the only way they can be continued is by a generous response to our annual appeal for gifts," the fund chairman said.

Carl Prosser, local president, said the first Exchange Club was founded in 1911 by a group of Detroit business and professional men who had been meeting informally to exchange ideas and to plan projects for community improvement.

"Today," he said, "Exchange Clubs are in towns and cities throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. The local club was granted its charter in 1950."

Newly elected officers will be installed by District Governor John J. Slentz.

The Red Cross here appealed today for donations of clothes and bed clothing for a family of six whose home was badly damaged by smoke and water last Wednesday afternoon when fire broke out in a second floor closet.

The Hampton fire company succeeded in confining more of the fire damage to the closet but not until after the second floor had been drenched and much of the interior of the home damaged by water and smoke.

The fire was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rinker who live in the old toll house at the southern end of Hampton. The family had to move out after the fire but expect to re-occupy the house after repairs.

Mr. Rinker, who recently submitted to surgery at the Hanover Hospital, wears a size 17 1/2 shirt, trousers with a 48 inch waistline and 28 inch length. He wears size 10 shoes. Mrs. Rinker takes a size 52 dress and a size nine shoe.

BURNS AND FALL SEND LINEMAN TO HOSPITAL

Linford Leroy Myers, 33, Waynesboro, a South Penn Power Company employee on loan to the Potomac Edison for storm damage repair work in the vicinity of Emmitsburg, was admitted to the Warner Hospital this morning after suffering burns that knocked him 40 feet to the ground from a power line pole.

Myers was working about 9 o'clock near farm buildings northeast of Emmitsburg in the direction of Harney and was handling what had been a "dead" wire. Without warning, a charge of electricity "back-fired" through the line from a specially-rigged generator at the farm buildings and Myers was knocked free of the pole.

He fell 40 feet to the ground and suffered contusions of the forehead and brush burns of the left thigh.

Hit By 7,900 Volts

The hospital said he is also suffering from bad electrical burns of the right wrist and the left hand. His condition was described as "satisfactory" after he had been admitted as a "badly shaken up" patient. He had been brought to the hospital by ambulance.

Although the current that caused the burns was believed to have been 7,900 volts, the fact that Myers was not wearing a safety belt at the time probably saved his life or at least prevented more severe burns. The shock of the electrical charge threw Myers free of the pole and released his hands from the charged wires.

Was Fastening Belt

Potomac Edison Company officials at Taneytown this afternoon said the accident occurred along Bolling Rd. between Emmitsburg and Harney at the Allen Bollinger farm. They said Myers apparently was in the act of fastening his safety belt when his hand touched a broken bushing that had been energized by an emergency generator at the Bollinger buildings.

If the bushing had not been faulty, they said, it might have energized the entire line and injured other workmen.

SAYS TUNISIA WILL HOLD FIRM

TUNIS (AP)—Claiming U.S. support, President Habib Bourguiba says Tunisia "can make no further concessions" to France. He promised to go back to the United Nations if the French won't compromise.

"We have done everything possible to meet the French more than halfway," Bourguiba said in an interview summing up his position.

The good offices mission of Robert Murphy, U.S. deputy under-secretary of state, and British diplomat Harold Beeley will return to France tomorrow to negotiate with Premier Felix Gaillard. They will find him fighting for time and U.S. support of the French position in North Africa.

The National Assembly starts a monthlong vacation at the end of the week, and ultranationalist opponents of a compromise will be temporarily scattered.

Bourguiba said he was encouraged by a telegram from U.S. Secretary of State Dulles praising his cooperation with the Murphy-Beeley mission. The Tunisian President said he took this as U.S. support for his position.

ROBBERS LOSE $1,000 OF LOOT

DREXEL HILL, Pa. (AP)—Three masked robbers took $4,500 from the manager of the Drexelbrook Inn today while some 30 customers sat nearby unaware of the holdup.

The robbers lost $1,000 of their loot when they smashed their getaway car and were forced to abandon it, fleeing on foot into nearby woods.

Following the crash, several employees of the inn started to pursue the holdup men but stopped when the bandits fired several shots.

Edwin J. Ryan, 40, general manager of the inn, said he was in his second floor office counting receipts when the holdup men—two of them showing pistols—came up a stairway. They bound Ryan and Riley Gibbons, 65, an employee of the inn who was in the hall outside Ryan's office.

Ryan quickly freed himself and shouted an alarm over the inn's intercom system.

Several customers on the first floor of the inn heard the crash of the getaway car into a parked car and joined employees in rushing outside. The shots followed and the chase ended.

Detective Peter J. Rorke of Upper Darby said the getaway car, bearing Colorado license plates, probably had been stolen.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. District Court today denied the Seneca Indians of New York State an injunction to halt construction of a proposed 101 million dollar flood control dam at Kinzua, Pa.

Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy in a written opinion said general legislation "is sufficient to override the provisions of an Indian treaty where the intent of Congress to do so is clear."

At a Feb. 17 hearing before McGarraghy, Edward E. O'Neill, counsel for the Senecas, maintained that special legislation is necessary to deprive the Senecas of any of their reservation land in New York.

A Justice Department attorney, Ralph Boyd, maintained, however, that flood control legislation passed over a period of years since the 1890's and an Appropriation Act of last year were specific enough to meet the situation.

The Senecas oppose the project because the reservoir to be created by the dam on the Allegheny River would inundate a part of their reservation.

The Indians cited a 1794 treaty signed by President George Washington in which the federal government agreed not to disturb the Seneca nation in use of the land.

PRAPAT FALLS TO REGULARS IN INDONESIA

By JOHN RODERICK
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Word from North Sumatra today said Prapat, one of the last reported rebel holdings in the area, was firmly in government hands.

Associated Press correspondent John Griffin telephoned from the war-torn port of Medan that Prapat was "all shot up and there are gutted vehicles in the streets from a battle last Tuesday."

Griffin said Maj. Boyke Mann Golan, who led the mutiny last week in Medan, had gone into hiding with the remnants of his force among the rubber estates about 100 miles southeast of the key port and rail center. The government retook Medan after a sea-saw battle.

Had Rebel Pass
Griffin said he and two other correspondents, John Dominis of Time-Life, and Marc Riboud of Magnum Photos, entered Prapat expecting to find it in rebel hands.

"We were well treated by the government forces and never at any time arrested," Griffin said. "When we showed them a pass signed by rebel Col. Djambek, they laughed."

Griffin, who reported he was in good health after a month and a half in rebel areas, said Dominis and Riboud had remained at Prapat.

The Indonesian Foreign Ministry today said Dominis and Jim Mossman, British correspondent for the Sydney Morning Herald and the London Daily Mail, were picked up by Jakarta government troops in North Sumatra.

Two Americans At Prapat
An earlier government announcement had said two Americans were found at Prapat, and it was believed at first they were Griffin and Dominis. There was no indication whether any action had been taken against any of the newsmen because they had come from rebel territory in Central Sumatra.

Griffin said he had heard of few casualties so far in the North Sumatra fighting except for a continuing battle in the Siantar area. He said Medan was quiet.

Loyalist forces claimed to have recaptured the last major oil installations held by the rebels in the eastern side of Central Sumatra in the Rengat area. The sector, in which U.S. Standard Vacuum Oil Co. operates, is about 100 miles southeast of Pekanbaru and the Caltex oil operations.

Forty-three Are Killed
Antara News Agency reported that 43 persons, including women and children, were killed recently in an ambush by the outlawed Darul Islam, a fanatic Moslem group which has no connection with the rebellious army units, in the Central Celebes.

An Indonesian military spokesman denied reports that rebel planes had bombed Indonesia's summer capital of Bandung, 70 miles east of Jakarta.

traveling east and his auto crossed the highway striking a westbound auto operated by Raymond Samuel Albert, 39, Dillsburg R. 1.

Other Traffic Collisions
The car of Charles E. Rothenhoefer, Aspers, was damaged to the extent of $200 when it was struck by a hit-run driver four miles west of here on the Fairfield Rd. Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Police said the Rothenhoefer car was parked when it was struck by an unidentified auto on the trunk and left side. The other car then continued on without stopping.

Saturday morning a mile south of here on the Littlestown Rd. Donald Eugene Stambaugh, 27, Taneytown R. 1, lost control of his car, police said. The vehicle ran off the side of the road and struck guard rails causing $900 damage to the car and $130 to the guard rails.

Guard rails were also damaged in an accident Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock not reported by state police until today. Elmer Moomaw, Crestfield, Md., was driving a tractor-trailer south on the Carlisle-Gettysburg Rd. at Idaville when another vehicle forced him to pull off the side of the highway and the tractor-trailer broke down several guard posts.

3 COUNTIANS PAY HEAVY FINES

A Fairfield R. 1 man and his two stepsons were fined $100 each Saturday by Magistrate Kreykenbohm, Hagerstown, for assault on the operator of a tavern at Cascade, Md., Sunday night, March 15.

Frank A. Bettis, 49, Fairfield R. 1, and his two stepsons, Vernon C. Niell, 24, and Howard O. Niell, 22, of the same address, were convicted of assault on Raymond S. Needy, operator of the tavern.

Needy testified that he put them out of the tavern twice when one of the younger men wanted to engage in a dispute with a customer with whom he was not acquainted.

He said that when the trio returned to the tavern the third time in a more belligerent mood he used force and defended himself with an axe handle in a fight in which one of the men struck him on the head with a bar stool.

In the meantime Mr. Needy had called the sheriff's office and state trooper Glen L. Bowman responded.

State Atty. Tom Kaylor who prosecuted the trio said he regarded the case as serious when men are put out of a tavern and then insist upon returning causing trouble.

The dispute started when one of the Niells alleged to have walked up to a customer at the bar and wanted to know who he had said about him. Needy told him that the man had said nothing about him and that he did not even know him.

It was at this stage that Needy ordered the three out of the tavern.

Some Suggestions
Those who may have suggestions are asked to write J. M. Sheads, 115 N. Stratton St.

Among suggestions already received are the establishment of the Soldiers' Orphans School here after the battle; the burning of Thaddeus Stevens Iron Works at Caledonia; the use of local churches as hospitals; the part played by Jennie Wade and John Burns; the old dormitories at Gettysburg College and Seminary; the Culp incidents; Judge David Wills' participation; activities of Herman Haugh, professor at the college, as chief of military transportation; the part played by Gen. William Wierman Wright, chief engineer on Sherman's march to the sea; Michael Jacobs' canning process for preservation of fruit and the Jonathan Letterman general hospital here after the battle.

Order Mongolians To Stop Roaming

WARSAW (AP)—Mongolia's nomadic herdsmen were told today they must end their roaming and settle down in Communist collectives.

This decision, adopted at a congress of the Mongolian Communist party and reported by the Polish press agency, would spell an end to a way of life unchanged through centuries.

The herdsmen, following their cattle on tough little ponies and living in ornate sheepskin tents, make up the greater part of Mongolia's four million population.

Communism so far has made little impact on them, despite the new meat-packing plant in Ulan Bator, the Mongolian capital, and the arrival there of Vyacheslav Molotov as Soviet ambassador.

MARKET MOVES UP

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers resumed their leadership early today as the stock market moved generally higher in fairly active trading. Coppers gained as much as 1 or 2 points. Key stocks in other groups rose fractions to around a point.

There was a scattering of small losers among steels and other industrials. Rails nudged to the upside.

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA)—Wholesale egg selling prices were unsettled today. Receipts (2 days) 27,900. Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 50-53; mediums 49-50; smalls 41-42. Browns: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 52-53½; mediums 49-50; smalls 41-42.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ludwig Erhard, West German economics minister, discussed German-American relations with President Eisenhower today, and expressed optimism afterward about the economic outlook in both the United States and his own country.

Erhard said his 35-minute talk with the President touched on various forms of cooperation in both the political and economic fields and the state of the economy in both countries.

Liz Taylor Leaves Sickbed To Fly To Mike's Funeral

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor leaves a sickbed tonight for a sad flight to Chicago and the funeral tomorrow of her husband, producer Mike Todd.

With her will be singer Eddie Fisher, one of Todd's best friends; MGM designer Helen Rose, a close friend of Mrs. Todd; Dr. Rexford Kennamer, the actress' physician; Howard Taylor, her brother; and Dick Hanley, Todd's executive secretary.

Miss Taylor was in bed with a virus at the time of the crash. The illness had kept her from accompanying Todd on the flight.

Chicago His Home Town
Todd's body, sealed in its casket, is already en route via Santa Fe train to Chicago, home town of the colorful showman.

His son Michael Jr. had wanted the body cremated in Albuquerque where it was taken after Saturday's air crash which killed Todd, 50, writer Art Cohn, 49, pilot Bill Verner, 45, and copilot Tom Barclay, 34.

But Miss Taylor balked. She told Mike Jr. that his father did not want cremation.

Mother Not Told
The private funeral rites will be held in Jewish Waldheim Cemetery at Forest Park, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

Todd's mother Mrs. Sophie Goldbogen, 91, a patient in a sanitarium here, was not notified of her son's death. An attendant explained that the shock "might prove very damaging to the patient."

Telegrams were delivered in bales to the Todd home here, including one from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower which read: "The President and I extend our deepest sympathy."

A memorial service will be held at Temple Israel here at the time of the burial. George Jessel will deliver a eulogy at the rites, expected to draw a host of Hollywood stars and show people.

A POINT OF LOW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The police manual of this city says a policeman should not charge a prisoner with disorderly conduct just because the prisoner swears at him. It's one of the experiences of being a policeman, the manual says. But if a law-abiding citizen hears the swearing, the manual continues, then it's disorderly conduct.

Two Brothers, 10 And 12, Are Charged With Killing Grocer

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy—termed a "tough little monkey"—and his 10-year-old brother were held today in the fatal shooting of a Woodward grocery store owner.

Sheriff Hank White said the youngsters had admitted the shooting spree which left two others wounded, one critically.

County Atty. H. B. King said he would file juvenile delinquency charges against Robert Smith, 12, and his brother David, 10. He said he would not file criminal charges because of their ages.

Killed was Floyd Blair, 49. Critically wounded was Adrian Wilson, 22, an employee at Blair's store, where the shooting occurred. A customer, Ed Kinney, 47, received a flesh wound.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, were in Liberal, Kan., where Smith was working on a plumbing job. They were not notified until they returned to Woodward about 10 p.m.

Smith said he had no statement to make.

King said the boys gave no reason for the shooting.

Sometime after they left Sunday school, White said, the boys broke into a store and stole four .22-caliber pistols. About 2:20 p.m. they entered Blair's open air market. Blair was working on a rifle. The boys asked him if it was a real gun and he said it was.

Then Robert Smith said, "This one's real too," drew out a pistol and started firing.

Admission Of Kansas: On Tuesday last, the vote was taken in the Senate of the U. S. States, on the admission of Kansas as a State, under the Lecompton Constitution and the bill was passed by a majority of eight votes.

The House of Representatives is still engaged in the discussion and the result is somewhat doubtful there — although the Democratic papers speak with confidence of its passage.

We observe that in all the towns surrounding us, daily prayer meetings are being commenced — Chambersburg, York, Carlisle &c., &c. There never has been within our recollection so general a religious feeling pervading the county; and conversions are going on everywhere in the most miraculous manner.

He got entangled in the lines and was dragged on the ground for some distance, bruising him so much as to cause his death on the following day.

Today's Talk

YOUTH ALIVE

I can see no harm resulting from a close contact with others. We keep young by clinging to youthful ideas and to those who never totally give up living alive and triumphant. Our mental attitude is what keeps us young, unafraid and adventurous. So long as you keep interests alive within your brain, you will never become bored with life. It's this boredom, which attacks many people, that keeps their advancing years troubled rather than full of zest, hope and excitement. We really ought to enter our advancing years like conquerors!

Youth is so full of great little things that influence us to some extent at least.

Keep accumulating ideas and experiences. Making them serve you is the right way to keep mastering life and its problems. The world is full of materials awaiting their transformation into an endless variety of uses. We can do many wonderful things with the tools that have been handed down to us. We can even better the tools themselves!

Youth is the time for dreaming, for the forming of useful habits, and for the careful selection of friends. The hours of youth are the most precious that ever come to us. They are like golden nuggets. Invest them intelligently and they will bless you to the very end of the trail! Look upon your friends as capital, for they surely are. But it is capital that is not for sale at any price. It's good to realize there are values in the world that even money dodges and will not offer to buy!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Unharnessed Effort!"

Just Folks

THE BUSY MAN

Where do you go when there's work to be done?
To the loafer who dreams in the shade,
To the idler who sits all day in the sun

And never has toiled with the spade?
Do you go to the man who has nothing to do
Or the man who is busy with deeds?

What sort of a man do you pick out when you
Have a task that ability needs?

Would you go to a man down in Indolence Vale
And ask him a mountain to climb?

Would you go to a fellow who's certain to fail,
Just because he has plenty of time?

Or go to the man who has done things, and still
Is busy with doing each day,
The man who has proved what he's worth and can fill
Ayn part that you ask him to play?

The man who's busy is the one you would choose,
The man shoulder-deep in his work,
The brother who isn't afraid of a brute,
Not the fellow who's known as a shirk.

The man who has never a minute to spare
Is the one you'd select for your task,
The man who has proved what he's able to bear
Is the man you would certainly ask.

BEATING THE AGE BARRIER

By Francisco (Chico) Day

Film Director, Los Angeles, Calif.

How much sweeter life would be if we could all lose the idea that old age is inevitable. It need not be so! If everyone could spend a few years with Cecil B. DeMille, as I have just done, he would know that I speak the truth.

Last summer Mr. DeMille celebrated his 76th birthday. But he absolutely and positively does not grow old. This I have seen.

When I was called in three years ago as first assistant director to Mr. DeMille on "The Ten Commandments," I was 46, a hale, hearty 46, able to outrun, out-yell, and out-work boys of 18. I figured I would need all my energy because Mr. DeMille was then 73.

He never missed a single day's shooting, either on the Paramount lot or on location work in Egypt and the Sinai Valley. He never seemed to rest, never had special diet or accommodations. His normal day began at 7:30 a.m., in his office, and ended twelve hours later.

Keen Senses
The keenness of his senses, and his assumption that his seniority gave him the right to protect, rather than be protected, impressed some of our stars even more than his physical activity. Yul Brynner, our Pharaoh of the Exodus, was astounded when, at a distance of 30 yards, Mr. DeMille saw "something wrong with Yul's belt." A jewel was out of place.

Then, as Yul was about to mount his chariot for the great pursuit after the Children of Israel, Mr. DeMille excused himself, stepped into the chariot and flicked the horses to a gallop. After executing a wide circle at full speed, he pulled up and explained, "I wanted to make sure it was safe for you, Yul."

"He isn't," as Yul said later with perfect truth, "getting any younger. But he makes you think this is the way getting older is done naturally, man as man should be at the peak of his life experience."

Yul's chance remark was what really started me questioning whether Mr. DeMille did somehow defy the human laws of physical and mental deterioration.

Edison And Churchill

I recalled that Edison built chemical plants after he was 67, that Winston Churchill was past 70 when he was guiding the fate of England in the bitterest years of her existence — so was General MacArthur when he was supreme commander of the occupation in Japan.

I knew that the great Italian composer Verdi wrote his wonderful opera "Otello" at 74 and "Falstaff" at 80. Ellihu Root revamped the World Court at 84, and the Venetian master Titian painted his canvas "Battle of Lepanto" at the age of 98.

What was the generator that could charge and recharge these men with an unending fountain of strength and inspiration? I asked Mr. DeMille point blank.

"Chico," he said, "Moses was an old man when he finished his work. But the Bible says that 'His eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.' Age is no barrier to doing God's work. To young and old, He gives the power to do what He wants done. All we need is to be alert to His will."

His Philosophy

From my association with Mr. DeMille, I have learned something of the philosophy that enables him to accomplish so much. Here are keynotes of it.

Prayer: I remember the day Mr. DeMille was asked if he believed in prayer. He searched the questioner's face a moment, judging the sincerity there and then answered, "I couldn't live a day without it. For me, prayer is thought contact with the Holy Spirit. It is the greatest power in the world."

Daily Bible Reading: By daily Bible reading and by making the Bible stories come alive for him, Mr. DeMille keeps constantly before his eyes the picture of man as man should be. Of Isaiah — a great favorite of his, who promises "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

Don't Quit
Refusal to Quit: Many of us will be forced to retire at some future time, and it is an insidious word. It means, according to the dictionary: "to withdraw from action, from circulation, to designate as no longer qualified for service."

Financially, Cecil B. DeMille could have retired many years ago, and rested on hard-earned laurels. He refuses, however, to accept the idea of retirement.

Enthusiasm and an Adventurous Mind: Mr. DeMille was once asked his creed and replied, in part: "Man was made in the image of God. Everyone of us was entrusted at birth with a precious fragment of the Divine Mind to develop for good or evil."

The development, he points out, is up to us, and the individual force behind development is enthusiasm. To cease to develop at any age is to grow rigid, and rigidity is a hardening process. The older person who loses his adventurous mind has more to worry about than one who develops hardening of the arteries.

Be Responsible
Responsibility to Life: Mr. DeMille has a strong reverence for life and a vital sense of responsibility toward it. He said once in a message to law enforcement officers, "Man has made 32,600,000 laws, but hasn't succeeded in improving on the Ten Commandments."

I have heard him say that the saddest words ever written are in the Book of Common Prayer: "We have left undone those things which we ought to have done . . ."

Practice of Your Faith: It is the privilege of mature years, says Mr. DeMille, to be an example of living, demonstrating faith to those coming up behind. With that challenge, no old age can be empty or lonely.

The final secret, I am convinced, of Mr. DeMille's energetic life and quick serene pace is that he walks eagerly and surely not toward sunset, but toward sunrise.

Practice of Your Faith: It is the privilege of mature years, says Mr. DeMille, to be an example of living, demonstrating faith to those coming up behind. With that challenge, no old age can be empty or lonely.

The final secret, I am convinced, of Mr. DeMille's energetic life and quick serene pace is that he walks eagerly and surely not toward sunset, but toward sunrise.

PALMER SHOOTS 6 UNDER PAR TO WIN TOURNEY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — After Arnold Palmer's tinging stretch drive victory in the St. Petersburg Open, touring golf professionals invade the Florida east coast today for two pro-amateur events starting with an 18-hole in Port Lauderdale.

Tomorrow they jump to West Palm Beach for the 36-hole Seminole program. There for the first time this winter circuit riders will tangle with two of the game's all-time greats, Ben Hogan and Sam Snead. Hogan and Snead have been honing their games for the Masters at Augusta, Ga., the first week in April.

Palmer, 28-year-old consistent money winner from Latrobe, Pa., had to shoot 6 under par 65, the best round of the tournament, to nail down top prize of $2,000. He birdied the final hole, thereby avoiding a sudden death playoff with Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., and Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

Four Round Chart

Palmer's chart for four rounds over the 6,265-yard, par-71 Pasadena Club course read 70-69-72-65-276. Finsterwald had 70-70-67-70-277. Hawkins 72-72-67-66-272. They got $1,350 each.

Leo Biagetti, St. Paul, Minn., closed with a 69 for 279 and fourth money of $1,000. Bill Casper Jr., Apple Valley, Calif., picked up $900 with a 67 and a 280 total. Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex., was next with 68 and 281, worth $800.

Both Palmer and Hawkins started the final round four strokes behind pace-setting Finsterwald. At the turn Hawkins had reeled off three birdies and pulled even with the scrambling Finsterwald, Palmer was one stroke behind.

Palmer caught the other two on the 15th hole.

CALDER CUP PLAY TO OPEN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Hockey League decided all playoff positions Saturday night, played out the schedule Sunday and now swing into the Calder Cup post-season series. Providence visits Hershey and Springfield is at Cleveland in the opening best-of-seven playoff games Wednesday.

Hershey's Bears made sure of first place by defeating the Buffalo Bisons 4-2 Saturday. They lost their finale 5-4 yesterday to second place Cleveland, which dropped a 3-2 overtime decision to Rochester Saturday.

Providence already had third place wrapped up going into the weekend games. But Springfield's Indians needed the 4-3 decision over Providence Saturday for the fourth and last playoff spot. In last night's return engagement Providence won 6-1.

Rochester, battling to the end, tripped Buffalo 4-6 last night after its previous night's triumph over Cleveland.

JEAN LAFITTE

Pirate, Patriot, Colorful Buccaneer;
Hero Of The Battle Of New Orleans;
Where Did He Come From? Where Did He Go?

By Leighton C. Taylor

Early pirates were to be found among the Phoenicians and the Vikings. For many centuries the northeast coast of Africa was the headquarters of the Barbary pirates. Numerous references are made to sea-rovers in the Odyssey. All through the Tudor reigns piracy prevailed around the British Isles, particularly to the south of Ireland where safe retreats existed and where receivers of plunder were to be found willing to buy any goods the pirates had to offer.

As life became more difficult and complicated for pirates in their home waters they migrated farther afield where they could practice their calling with less interference. Thus, for example, piracy spread to the West Indies, the coast of our own New England, and to Madagascar. For many years Madagascar was a happy haunt for pirates. Here they lived in security, married native women, and reigned as petty kings. From this stronghold they were able to lay heavy toll on passing ships sailing between England and the West Indies.

Famous Captain Kidd

There were many notable pirates, the one most generally known being the famous Captain Kidd. Almost any boy or girl in grade school, asked to name the most notorious pirate in American history, will automatically reply, "Captain Kidd." Kidd has become a legend. Boys of many generations, living in the vicinity of Long Island Sound, have dreamed of finding his buried treasure. Captain Kidd was convicted in London of piracy and murder and hanged in 1701 at Execution Dock on the Thames water front. His body was then bound in chains and left hanging in view of every ship as a macabre warning. After Kidd's death rumors spread that he had buried his plunder in places along the American coast near New York.

Few Overlook Lafitte

Few writers dealing with the people, customs, and historical events of Louisiana, or of its principal city, gay, distinctive, and quaint New Orleans, have neglected to include a chapter or two on the amazing Jean Lafitte. Practically nothing is known of his early life. The time and place of his birth have long been an enigma. Even the time and place of his death are topics of conjecture. For a century and a half Lafitte and his buried treasure have provided fascinating reading and conversation. In New Orleans and the rest of the Deep South his name is probably more familiar than that of any other man of his age and period.

Many Big Questions Need Answering In Future Of Phils Who Finished Fifth

By JACK HAND

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Can Robin Roberts bounce back? Is Willie Jones through? Will Eddie Bouchee play again?

If manager Mayo Smith knew the answers he could tell more about the fate awaiting his Phils who last year finished 5th with a 77-77 record.

A new bunch of Whiz Kids gave the club the shot in the arm last spring. Jack Sanford, Dick Farrell, Harry Anderson and Bouchee all made it big. Seth Morehead, Bob Bowman and Don Cardwell also made their contributions.

Had "Rookie Of Year" Sanford's 19-8 season earned him the "rookie of the year" award in sharp contrast to Roberts' backsliding.

Roberts won-lost record dipped to 10-22, poorest of his distinguished career. He must be considered a question mark.

Jones, the veteran third baseman, showed signs of wear and tear last summer when he was benched for light hitting Ted Kazanski. In the early spring games, Willie has not impressed Smith.

Bouchee on Probation
Bouchee, the first baseman, was placed on three years probation by a judge in Spokane, Wash., recently after pleading guilty to a morals charge. He is undergoing psychiatric treatment, sponsored by the Phils.

The loss of Bouchee, a powerful .283 hitter, was a blow to the Phils who already had infield problems. Smith experimented with Harry Anderson but it didn't work out. Anderson is back in the outfield. Francisco (Pancho) Herrera, who hit .304 at the Miami farm, is getting a big whirl at the job. The question is—can he hit big league pitching?

Chico At Short
If Jones can't win back the third base post, Kazanski (.265) will be the man. Chico Fernandez (.262), obtained from Brooklyn last April, is set at short and Granny Hamner (.227) at second. But the infield is too thin.

The trade that brought Wally Post from Cincinnati, figures to give the Phils more punch in the outfield. Post (.244) hit 20 homers and drove in 74 runs for the Redlegs in a sub-par year.

Richie Ashburn (.297) is still the center fielder, although Smith has been using Don Landrum who batted .294 at Miami.

Anderson (.268 with 17 homers) will play left, probably platooning with Rip Repulski (.260). Bowman (.266), Chuck Harmon (.258) and handyman Dave Philley (.295 at Chicago and Detroit) are the reserves.

Lopata Is No. 1

Stan Lopata (.237), apparently recovered from last year's knee injuries, is the No. 1 catcher with help from Joe Lonnett (.169).

If Roberts comes back, Smith will have a solid starting trio that includes Sanford and Curt Simmons (12-11). Morehead (1-1) is expected back from the Army by opening day to take a regular turn. Cardwell (4-8) and Roman Semproch (12-4 at Miami) are fighting for the extra job.

Smith counts on the experienced Warren Hacker (7-6) and Jim Hearn (6-1) for spot starting and middle-inning relief. The bullpen ace is Farrell (10-2).

Cager Set Four Freshman Records

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Cliff Barrett of San Jose State Freshmen will long remember the 1958 basketball game he played against Washington High School of Fremont.

Barrett set four school freshman records.

The marks: 40 points for the game; 17 field goals for the game; 22 points in the first half; and 10 field goals in the opening half.

South Korea Will Get Modern Weapons

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korea's ambassador to Washington said today "modern weapons are arriving or will start arriving here in a few days" for Korean forces.

Ambassador You Chan Yang said his government is proposing that the United States lift its restriction against providing foreign troops with nuclear arms.

The United Nations Command brought 280mm atomic cannon and Honest John rockets for American troops in Korea last January. South Korea has demanded "modern weapons and equipment" for her forces ever since the talk of reducing the size of her army.

NEW SWIM COACH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jim Campbell of Wilkes-Barre is the new swimming coach at the University of Pennsylvania. He succeeds Jack Medina who resigned March 11.

Campbell formerly was swimming coach at the Multnomah A. C. in Portland, Ore. He will assume his duties at Penn on July 1.

The University of Utah won the National Invitational Basketball Tournament in 1945.

South Penn Teams Post Forefits

Forefits for the coming season were posted by members of the South Penn Baseball League at a meeting Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Home.

Representatives of the Cumberland Valley Umpires Association attended the meeting and discussed plans for the season.

Robert Krichen, Brunsdown, president of the league, presided. All teams were represented with the exception of Hunterstown.

A schedule will be drawn up in the near future.

COACHES WILL COME HERE FOR SPORTS NIGHT

Members of coaching staffs from colleges within this area are expected to be present for the All-Sports Night to be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Gettysburg High School under sponsorship of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

John Y. Crow, of the Jaycee committee in charge said that responses to invitations indicate members of the coaching staff from Millersville State Teachers, Shippensburg State Teachers, Delaware and other nearby institutions are planning to be present in addition to the program of speaking which will include James H. Crowley, Altoona, former "Four Horseman" of Notre Dame, well-known coach and now head of the state Athletic Commission. Also scheduled for the program is the movie of the Maryland game attended by Queen Elizabeth last fall.

The All-Sports Night program is being held to raise funds to provide a football camp for the Gettysburg High School Warriors. Cost of the project is $1,000, Crow said and so far about $600 has been raised through sale of tickets to the Sports Night program. The group is hoping enough additional tickets will be sold at the high school auditorium Tuesday night "to reach the goal. Every penny spent for tickets goes toward the camp which will provide not only training but benefits of community living and fellowship for the student players," Crow said.

The trade that brought Wally Post from Cincinnati, figures to give the Phils more punch in the outfield. Post (.244) hit 20 homers and drove in 74 runs for the Redlegs in a sub-par year.

Richie Ashburn (.297) is still the center fielder, although Smith has been using Don Landrum who batted .294 at Miami.

COURT TITLES AT STAKE THIS WEEK IN PIAA

HARRISBURG (AP)—Regional and state finals this week will decide the top teams in the Class A, B and C scholastic basketball divisions for 1958.

There will be a new state champion in each class. Only Williamsburg, Dist. 6 Class C champion, was in state playoffs last year.

The club has gotten as far as the Western regional finals again this season.

High point of the week's activity will be the annual Class A championship game Saturday night at the Palestra in Philadelphia. The previous night B and C titles will be decided.

The Class A playoffs will see some new teams in the playoffs and a district from the west that has been stranger to the western crown for many years.

Altoona Triumphs
The western situation arose when the Dist. 7 champion, Charleroi, was trimmed out of title contention by Altoona Saturday, 49-47. Dist. 7 (the WPAL) has been represented in the western finals every year since 1943 and has sent more teams to the state title than any other district since World War II.

Altoona will play Erie Strong Vincent, Dist. 10 winner, for the western pennant Wednesday at the Pitt Field House. Both teams are repeat winners of their district titles.

In the east two teams comparatively fresh to regional playoffs will square off Wednesday at Philadelphia's Palestra for the eastern crown.

York Unbeaten
The opponents are York, the only undefeated team among the Class A schools in the state and Dist. 3 champion, and Haverford, Dist. 1 king which eliminated 1957 turnerup Chester in playoffs.

In the Class B ranks there are no 1957 district winners left in the race.

In the east, Columbia, representing Dist. 3, will meet Exeter, Dist. 2 king, for the eastern title tomorrow at Albright College, Reading. Columbia knocked off Blue Mountain, 67-44, Saturday, to win the final berth and its 24th victory in 26 starts.

The same thing in Pittsburgh Wampum, Dist. 7 winner, and Fredonia, Dist. 10 leader, will square off for the western crown. They won playoff spots last week.

ADOLPH RUPP NOT RETIRING FROM KENTUCKY

By DON WEISS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—No, friends, Adolph Rupp's not planning to retire as Kentucky's basketball coach just because he got that "next" National Collegiate title he begrudgingly vowed to get six years ago.

For one thing, Rupp is a healthy vigorous 56.

"Hell, I'm as young as you guys," he blurted out when the question of retirement was put to him.

Time Healed Hurt
For another, time apparently has healed the hurt he felt when the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. suspended the Wildcats from competition for the full 1952-53 season as an aftermath of the infamous basketball scandals.

Rupp now says he was misquoted in reported statements that received wide circulation at the time. In fact, after whipping Seattle 84-72 for his fourth national championship Saturday night, he took special care to praise the NCAA.

"They've treated me and Kentucky very well," he said.

He did, however, vow back in 1952 to bring his Wildcats back to the top of the nation's basketball powers before calling it a career.

Looking To No. 5

Now he has done it with a club he didn't think had much of a chance even as late as two weeks ago. Already he is looking ahead to No. 5.

"I have no intention of quitting. Maybe sometime we can win another," he said.

"Folks who are supposed to know thought so little of us," Rupp said, "we figured we would just come up here to sell programs."

Temple won third place, defeating Kansas State 67-57.

SALLY LEAGUE SOLID DUE TO MILLIONAIRES

By FRANK ECK

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The venerable Sally League and its Jacksonville Braves are still in good hands since two millionaires have changed jobs.

Hall of Fame Bill Terry, once first baseman and manager of the New York Giants, has stepped down as president of the league. His successor is Sam Wolfson.

Wolfson, 47-year-old brother of financier Lou Wolfson, bought the Braves five years ago for $65,000. Recently, he sold the team to Terry for $25,000.

Championship-wise the Braves were a success for Wolfson. They won three South Atlantic League pennants and were second once under Manager Ben Geraghty. But last year, under Mickey Owen, the team ran sixth.

Sam Wolfson issued an ultimatum to Spec Richardson, his general manager—"Sell 100,000 tickets for 1958 and I'll keep the club." Then he was off on a two-week trip to Central America.

"Only 10,000 tickets were sold," says Wolfson. "So when Spec told me Bill Terry was interested I sold the team for $25,000. Oh, I could have made money with it but when we did make a profit I gave it away. When the players won pennants I gave them diamond rings."

Terry and 49 local businessmen each put up $1,000. They have $25,000 in reserve. Terry made his fame in baseball and his big money in automobiles. If any one can show a profit—even in minor league baseball—Terry is a good bet.

Wolfson's new job pays $4,800 a year, plus office rent and travel expenses. But Sam refuses to take a nickel. He is well fixed in the investment business with his brothers Lou, Cecil and Saul.

The Wolfsons put ex-Yankee pitching ace Allie Reynolds in the oil drilling equipment business in Oklahoma and they are still associates.

Produced Stars
At Jacksonville, Wolfson had a working agreement which helped the Milwaukee Braves to the world's baseball championship. Wolfson alumni on the world champion Braves are Hank Aaron, Wes Covington, Juan Pizarro, Felix Mantilla and Bob Trowbridge.

He also had Ray Crone, now a Giant; Bob Malkmus, now a Senator; and Taylor Phillips, now a Cub. Malkmus was drafted from Wichita to play second base for Washington. The other two were traded because of Milwaukee's pitching.

If Sam were unlucky with his former players it was because he didn't own one of those who made the grade in Milwaukee. All came here on option with the tag: "Milwaukee-owned."

Still, seven big leaguers from one Class A team in five years is better than par.

Jack Kubiszyn holds 10 all-time University of Alabama basketball records.

Future Stars Western League Has Six With Chance In Majors

(This is the last of eight stories on Future Stars. It was written by Manager Larry Shepard whose Lincoln, Neb., Chiefs won the Western League title.)

By LARRY SHEPARD

Written for The Associated Press
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The Western League in 1957 produced at least a half dozen baseball players who stand a good chance to make the grade, sooner or later, in the major leagues.

One of the top prospects is John Stadnicki, a right hand pitcher who won 23 and lost only 5 for Topeka, Kan., last season. He's 21 and not a big man but he had come along fast in four years of pro ball.

Lincoln's pennant winning club was helped by two pitchers with major league potential—left hander Joe Gibbons and right-hand reliever Don Williams.

Converted To Pitcher
Gibbons came to Lincoln as an outfielder but was converted into a pitcher with exceptional results. He won 9 while losing 7 and had an earned run average of 1.83. Williams appeared in 61 games, all in relief, and won 15, lost 6. He is on the Pittsburgh roster.

You will do well also to watch James (Jim) McDaniel, Topeka outfielder and a dark horse candidate for a climb to the majors. He has all the tools. He has power. He can run and throw. He is a 25-year-old Irishman who started out as a pitcher. Last season he hit 312.

Another fine young prospect is Clayton Dalrymple, Amarillo, catcher who hails from Chico, Calif., and who bats left throws right. He broke into baseball with Sacramento. He powdered the ball at .298 clip for Amarillo in 1957 and racked up 17 home runs.

Needs Attitude Change
Lincoln's home run slugger, Dick Stuart, could make his mark with a little change in attitude and some improved glove work. After hitting 68 circuit clouts in 1956, he would up with 45 last season—31 for Lincoln, 6 for Hollywood and 8 for Atlanta. He is getting another chance with Pittsburgh.

Continued improvement also could send Lincoln pitcher Bill Bell upstairs. He once pitched three no-hit, no-run games in a single season for Bristol, Va., in the Appalachian League. For Lincoln last season, he won 11 and lost 4. The Pirates will look him over at Fort Myers, Fla.

A party for the benefit of the Fairfield Lions Junior Little League will be held Saturday evening at the Cashtown Community Fire Co. hall.

Proceeds will be used to purchase uniforms for the league teams.

Hot beef and chicken sandwiches will be sold and games will be played. A feature of the program will be square dancing, music for which will be furnished by the Pecher Brothers of Fairfield. The party is open to the public.

MIAMI (AP)—Bill Harris has a lot of chips going for him every time he pitches.

They're in his right elbow.

The 26-year-old Los Angeles Dodger right-hander collected them two springs ago in his second day at the Dodgers' Vero Beach training camp.

"Manager Walt Alton was watching and I thought I'd try to impress him," says Harris ruefully. "I began throwing too hard too soon and I hurt my elbow."

"I pitched only one inning in an exhibition game against the White Sox and the elbow bothered me. X-rays showed that I had several chips in the elbow."

Great 1957 Season
Despite the handicap, Harris had an 11-11 record that year at Montreal. He was 16-10 there last year with a losing team. At the tailend of the National League season he got his chance to impress Alton a second time.

"He did, too," says Alton. "He looked fine even in losing a 3-2 game to the Phillies. His pitches were hinging. If they had been about one foot lower the Phillies never would have beaten him."

Harris resembles Kirby Higbe, the old Dodger who helped Brooklyn to the 1941 pennant. He's a second Higbe in build, features and action. Those who watched Off Hingley called Harris "Little Hig." He throws just as hard, too. And, like Higbe, he wastes little time between pitches. Dodger farm managers have tried to teach him pace for years.

Credits Tommy Holmes
"I guess I became a pitcher at Fort Worth under Tommy Holmes," says Harris. "He got me to change my speeds. The change up is one of the best pitches in baseball but I never knew it until Tommy got me to throw it. That was in 1955."

Harris has bounced around the Dodger chain since 1951 when he started with Valdosta, Ga., in Class D.

His second season was his best thus far. In B ball with Miami in the Florida-International League he paced the circuit in five departments. His most impressive statistics were 25 wins (the lost 6) and an 0.33 earned run record. Next year he moved to AA at Mobile. He's been Triple A ever since.

Canadian-born Harris, a chunky 5-foot-8 and 182 pounds, makes his home with his parents in Dorchester, N. B. He played junior hockey as a center for five seasons. The Montreal Canadiens once tried to sign him for their Valleyfield, Que., team.

Fans 189 Batters
But Harris preferred baseball and was signed for $1,500 by the late Bill O'Connor with the agreement that he would get another $500 for sticking one month with Valdosta. He stuck for $175 a month and fanned 189 batters in 201 innings while completing 22 starts.

The funniest thing that ever happened to me came in 1953 when I was sent from Fort Worth to Mobile," recalls Harris. "I left at 8 a.m. in a hurry but it was the ninth inning by the time I got to Nashville. Mobile had a three-run lead."

"Nashville filled the bases and I was sent to the bullpen. My second pitch was a grand slam home run. I lost the game on two pitches. It's funny now but it wasn't so funny then."

CHISOX HOPING RON JACKSON HAS "ARRIVED"

The Associated Press

Manager Al Lopez is hoping the Chicago White Sox finally will get some dividends on the $25,000 they invested in first baseman Ron Jackson in 1954.

That year, the Sox snapped the 6-foot-7 Jackson off the Western Michigan campus. They've been sitting back waiting for something to happen since.

In 1955, he got in 40 games and hit a paltry .203. In 1956 he appeared in 22 games and hit .214. He spent last year with Indianapolis and hit .310 with 21 home runs and 102 RBIs. He also struck out 110 times, high for the American Assn.

Beat Redlegs 145
But Lopez and the rest of the Sox brass think Jackson may have arrived.

The Sox licked the Cincinnati Redlegs 14-5 a Tampa yesterday and Jackson cleaved two home runs, each good for three runs. Tito Francona also drove in half a dozen runs on four singles.

That the teams are beginning to get to the shakedown stage is indicated by the fact that both Lew Burdette, who won three games in last year's World Series, and Bob Lemon, who had not been to the mound since last August, tested their arms.

Good Day For Burdette
Burdette went three innings for Milwaukee in the Braves' 4-0 shut-out over the Pittsburgh Pirates and didn't permit a batter to reach base. He also doubled home the first run.

Lemon, who underwent an elbow operation last November, went two innings for the Cleveland Indians B team, which turned back the Chicago Cubs' B squad 10-1.

He was nicked for an unearned run on three hits and reported his arm felt fine.

Other Results
In other action, the Cubs' regulars defeated the Indians 10-8 at Tucson; the San Francisco Giants topped the Baltimore Orioles 8-5 at Phoenix; the New York Yankees overpowered the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-4 at Miami; the Kansas City A's splattered the Washington Senators, 7-1 at Orlando; the Detroit Tigers whitewashed the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 at St. Petersburg; and the Boston Red Sox nicked the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 at Clearwater.

Rookie center fielder Don Tausig broke a tie with Baltimore when he doubled with the bases loaded in the eighth, breaking a 5-4 tie and giving the Giants their triumph.

The Yanks collected five runs in the eighth inning, four on Bill Skowron's grand slam home run, to whip the Dodgers.

Guarantee Travel Costs
Six National League teams (excluding the San Francisco Giants) will be guaranteed $25,000 each for traveling. O'Malley plans to seek an adjustment soon after advance ticket sales are completed.

3. Lights and Coliseum alterations will run close to $300,000 for the two years the Dodgers plan to use the big stadium.

4. The Pacific Coast League will be paid $450,000 over a three-year period for damages caused by the shifting of the franchise.

5. For nine straight games O'Malley must surrender 10 per cent of food concession money which figures to amount to $100,000.

Tax Obligation $65,000
Although the Dodgers sold Ebbets Field late in 1956 they have a 1958 tax obligation of $65,000.

7. Twenty Dodger officials will be reimbursed about $1,500 each for moving to Los Angeles.

8. The Dodgers bought Wrigley Field in Los Angeles from the Chicago Cubs and the tax for 1958 is $27,500.

9. The Dodger option for 1958 on Ebbets Field costs $25,000.

10. The Pioneer League is to be reimbursed $15,000, the result of the shift to Salt Lake City of the 1957 Pacific Coast League Los Angeles team.

11. Rent for 1958 at Jersey City's Roosevelt Field is $10,000.

"We could draw almost 2 1/2 million people in Los Angeles this year," says Dodgers Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi. This would mean about five million dollars in gate receipts.

CELTICS NEAR FINAL ROUND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics are only one victory away from the final round of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs. But the St. Louis Hawks, champions of the Western Division, still face a tartar in the Detroit Pistons.

The Celtics, defending champions and winner of the Eastern Division this season, turned back the Philadelphia Warriors twice over the weekend and established a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. The fourth game is scheduled for Philadelphia Wednesday. The Saturday night score was Boston 109, Philadelphia 9 and yesterday at Boston it was 106-92.

After winning their second straight 99-96 Saturday over a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven semifinals, the Hawks bowed to the Pistons 109-89 Sunday. Their fourth game will be played in Detroit Tuesday.

The team winning the two division championships, to be determined on a percentage basis, will meet in a single game to be played in one division or the other on an alternate year basis. Ten per cent of the proceeds for the playoff game will be given to the two schools concerned for traveling expenses and the remaining 80 per cent will go into the league treasury.

MIAMI (AP)—If Walter Francis O'Malley doesn't make a million dollars this year he'll be in trouble.

The man who moved the Brooklyn Dodger baseball franchise to Los Angeles is stuck for more than a million even before he plays a game in the Coliseum.

Here is the first official rundown on expenses confronting the Dodgers in their franchise shift:

A featured article on Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, Fraternal Order of Eagles, appears in the April, 1958, issue of Foe. There is a picture of the last class of 127 candidates at initiation, together with the state membership director, George Strine, York; who was speaker for the occasion; Bernard M. Selby, for whom the class was named as he is the first member to be elected to a state office; Edward L. Warner, president; Luther Hankey, membership director, and the York Aerie's champion team.

It was noted that the new class brought the new total membership to a commendable 888. Accomplishments listed include the fact that the aerie donated nearly $1,500 to various welfare drives and community projects during the past year.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the local Foe held its second March meeting on Wednesday evening at the Eagles Home, with Mrs. Mary Kraft, president, presiding. Mrs. Mabel Rittase gave a report on the zone conference held recently in Berwick, which was also attended by Mrs. Geneva Mummert and Mrs. Ruth Fuhrman. It was decided to present a monetary gift to the unit's foundation boys, George and Gary Miller, for Easter.

An invitation was extended to the unit to attend a testimonial dinner in honor of Madame State Pres. Eleanor Schraedley in Pottstown on April 14. It was decided to postpone the nomination of officers scheduled for Wednesday, until the April 21 meeting, due to the weather conditions. The president appointed Mrs. Ruth Hoke and Mrs. Susanne Sheely to serve as the refreshment committee for the April meetings. The food committee for the public parties during the month of April is composed of Mrs. Josephine Hall, Mrs. Learna Bowman and Mrs. Ruth Fuhrman. The guest package was received by Mrs. Ruth Hoke. SAY 10 MILLION
IN UNION FUNDS WAS 'MISUSED'

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee reported that "some 10 million dollars in union funds have been either stolen, embezzled or misused" in 15 years by officials of five labor unions.
It listed them as the Teamsters, Bakery Workers, United Textile Workers, Operating Engineers, and Allied Industrial Workers unions.
The report, signed by seven members of the bipartisan committee, drew a sharp dissent from the eighth member.
Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) appended a report of his own calling the money figures "phony" and assailing what he termed "antilabor bias" in the majority findings.

Like Police Gazette
McNamara said, "The colorful language and some of the findings in these chapters are more related to the old Police Gazette than to a supposedly objective congressional report."

The majority report said its findings were not intended as any "wholesale indictment" of either labor unions or employers. Rather, it said, the findings should be "a danger signal" to the others in those fields, the vast majority of whom it termed undoubtedly honest.

Five Fields Cited

Without going into detail, the report urged Congress to consider legislation in five fields: (1) to regulate and control pension, health and welfare funds; (2) to regulate and control union funds; (3) to "insure union democracy" (4) to curb activities of middlemen in labor-management disputes; and (5) to let states take over where the National Labor Relations Board declines to assume jurisdiction.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said in a statement the committee's recommendations "follow generally the proposals President Eisenhower made to Congress three months ago." He expressed hope the Senate committee findings will prod Congress to act quickly.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Kenny Anderson, 18, a service station attendant, told the intruder "Go ahead and shoot."
The man, his face covered with soot or black powder and armed with what appeared to be a .38 caliber gun, muttered "This is not worth it" — and fled.

CORKY KELLY TO FOLLOW IN FOOTSTEPS OF HIS HERO DAD

By NOAH HALPER

CHESTER HEIGHTS, Pa. (AP) — Corky Kelly, son of one of the nation's first heroes of World War II, has decided he wants to follow the footsteps of his father to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Corky, formally known as Colin P. Kelly III, is a 17-year-old high school senior on whose behalf President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941 wrote a letter to the President of the United States in 1956.

The letter, written when Corky was 16 months old, asked that the "merits of a young American youth of goodly heritage" be considered for appointment to the academy "as a token of the nation's appreciation of the heroic services of his father," Army Air Force Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr.

Records Forwarded

Corky lives in this suburban Philadelphia community with his mother and stepfather, Dr. and Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, who disclosed Corky's intentions today.

Mrs. Pedlow said the family planned a trip to West Point soon to determine what requirements Corky must meet. In the meantime, his precollege examination records have been forwarded to the academy.

West Point is probably more than a year off for Corky. Mrs. Pedlow said that in preparation for a possible appointment, he had been accepted by an unnamed college where he planned a year of study.

"We hope he can quietly enter West Point like any other plebe (freshman)," Mrs. Pedlow said.

He's 6-Footer

The 6-foot-2 youngster is president of the student body at Westtown Friends School, has a high academic rating and has achieved Eagle Scout rank in the Boy Scouts. In addition, he is active in sports, shining especially on the soccer field.

His father received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Distinguished Service Cross for his part in bombing missions after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Three days later, Capt. Kelly's B17 was attacked by Japanese fighters as the bomber was returning to Clark Field in the Philippines from a mission. Explosions were set off aboard the bomber and six of the eight-man crew, acting on Capt. Kelly's orders, escaped by parachute. One man was killed at his station. Capt. Kelly failed to clear the ship.

Child's Body Is Found After Week

GALLIPOLIS, W.Va. (AP) — A farmer found the body of 5-year-old John Wayne McKinney in a pasture about two miles from his southern West Virginia farm home yesterday.

Coroner Oliver Ashenaur said his investigation showed the boy died of exposure and "there was no evidence whatsoever of foul play."

As many as 1,000 searchers, including National Guardsmen and college students, had made a shoulder-to-shoulder hunt for the child since his disappearance last Monday.

REACH PEAK OF
READING SPEED
BY SIXTH GRADE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The average American can't read a bit faster now than he could in the sixth grade, an expert in the field said today.

When he finishes grade school the average child can read about 200 words a minute. And there he stays.

Dr. Nila Banton Smith, director of the reading clinic at New York University, said in an interview that reading courses should be required right through the 12th grade. Students should be reading at least 600 words per minute at graduation, she said. Exceptionally gifted students could boost that rate to 1,000 words.

Many Business Executives

At NYU, most of Dr. Smith's students are business executives.

"In 14 two-hour sessions we are usually able to treble their reading speed," she said. "They not only learn to read faster, they learn to understand what they're reading. The same thing could be done, and should be done, for all our high school students."

Dr. Smith, here for the annual convention of elementary school principals, doesn't feel that much more can or should be done in the first six grades.

RICARDO CORTEZ IS RETURNING TO SILVER SCREEN

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Panic? We've had them before in Hollywood—and worse ones, too. Things looked much worse when sound was coming in. The movie industry will survive. It will make fewer pictures and better pictures."

This is the view of Ricardo Cortez, and he is a man who should know. He started in movies 40 years ago at Fort Lee, N.J., and has witnessed the golden days and black days of the business since then.

Now 58, he still has the heavy lidded handsomeness that makes women turn their heads as he passes. After an eight-year absence, he is returning to the screen. I asked him why he stayed away so long.

Tired Being Gangster

"Because I was tired of playing gangsters," he replied. "That's all they would offer me, and I refused to do any more of those parts."

John Ford brought Ricardo back to pictures. The producer-director cast him as the only non-Irishman in "The Last Hurrah." Ricardo plays the Jewish financial adviser to political boss Spencer Tracy.

Born Jack Krantz in Vienna, Cortez started in films in the East, came to Hollywood in 1922 and cashed in on the craze for Latin lovers, along with Valentino, Ramon Navarro and Antonio Moreno. In 1927, he starred with Greta Garbo in her first American film, "The Torrent." He is the only actor who was ever billed above Garbo.

FRENCH SONG WRITER THINKS EQUALITY FOR SEXES MISTAKE

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"In America there is this equality between the sexes, and this I feel is a mistake," said Andre Varel, a leading French lyricist.

Varel and his partner, Charly Bailly, who are known as "the Rodgers and Hammerstein of France," have had plenty of opportunity lately to study American women. With a chorus group of seven young Frenchmen called the Chanteurs de Paris, they have toured the country for several months and now are appearing at the Waldorf.

Should Forget Equality
Word has spread that some of our lovelorn native ladies, overcome by Gallic charm, have been pursuing the pair from city to city. Asked about this, Varel replied:

"Maybe they chase my partner. Not me!"

Varel, who is a career bachelor, left the implication this suited him.

"If American women could forget this idea of equality," he remarked, "they would become more exciting and sought after than French women."

Doesn't Need Equality
"Equality between men and women? What does it mean? It is physically impossible for a girl to be like a man.

"I do not believe there is a great deal of genius in women, but she confers it. Genius comes from her. That is enough. She does not need equality, and I do not believe she really wants it."
Varel has written the words and Bailly the music for more than 100 songs, a number of which have been featured by such performers as Edith Piaf, Patachou and Lucienne Boyer.

What is the favorite theme of the tunesmiths in France's Tin Pan Alley?

Too Much Love?
"Naturellement," said Varel. "It is love. In France even the old men are interested in love. In fact, the older they are the more interested they seem."

"I have been reading a book in which it said love is a crime. Starting today I am going to think about this for some time.
"After all, perhaps, love is a crime. A man is born by love, suffers by love, dies for love. I would say there is too much love—except that we have written a song called 'There's Never Too Much Love.'"

Suggests Equipment
Reverting to his comparison of American and French women, Varel said:

"The American girl is very nice but she has a complex about love. She does not permit herself to be completely sincere, to let herself go.
"I think the dream would be for every French woman to come to this country for a while and for every American girl to stay in Paris for a time."

"That would be paradise—at least for the American girls!"

SAYS PLANNED OBSOLESCENCE NOT JUSTIFIED

By SAM PAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Some industries specializing in planned obsolescence are among those having the most trouble today.

Planned obsolescence means deliberately bringing out a product aimed at making last year's model appear out of date. By repeating this each year sales volume tends to rise. Advocates of planned obsolescence say it is basic to modern American economy.

Technical obsolescence is another matter. This comes from new products that out-date the old through superiority but have a long life expectancy of their own. Walter Dornin Teague, noted designer, says technical advances come so fast purely artificial obsolescence is unjustified.

Wastes Resources
He and other opponents of planned obsolescence say it wastes resources and talents, and that people are getting too wise to fall for it.

Probably the oldest example of planned obsolescence is in women's fashions.

Detroit often is accused of bringing out a flashy new model automobile one year, trying to make next year's appear different without too much costly retooling, and then concentrating on the third year's model to make the preceding two look terribly out of date.

Want To Make Money
Household appliances have taken the same tack of late in an effort to get the housewife dissatisfied with the gadgets in her kitchen.

This also often is tried in office furniture and equipment. The reason manufacturers and designers do this is entirely understandable: they want to make money. In America that's no crime.

But Teague questions the sense of the nation using an enormous amount of capital reserves and engineering talent in obsolescence merchandizing drives while complaining of a dearth of funds and skills for a needed defense program.

Advocates Principles
Teague advocates these principles: the product should be better because of its design; it must be more convenient to use; it should be more economical all around, and it ought to be beautiful and gratifying.

at much of this. They hold that Americans don't want their purchases to last—that they really just rent things on the installment plan, expecting to trade them in before finally paid for—that superior quality that lasts for decades can't be sold to most Americans.

CHICAGO (AP)—Three Soviet

atomic scientists visited the Brookfield Zoo yesterday—at their request because they said they had heard of it in the Soviet Union.

The scientists asked zoo attendants to see "something that smells very badly." They were shown a skunk. They talked with excitement when they heard the rattle of an American diamondback rattlesnake.

JULIE HARRIS HAS LEAD IN SHOW TONIGHT

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Harris makes one of her rare television appearances tonight playing the lead in "Little Moon of Alban" on "Hall of Fame" (NBC-TV, 9:30 p.m., EST).

The 90-minute drama by James Costigan is the first play written originally for TV which "Hall of Fame" has presented. Costigan is said to have had Miss Harris in mind for the role when he wrote it.

"I play a Daughter of Charity in Dublin," Miss Harris said in a rich Irish brogue the other day during a rehearsal break. "I'm not a nun. I play the part of a religious young woman whose faith is shaken by the deaths of her father, brother and lover. I decide to become a Daughter of Charity—but for the wrong reasons at first. Basically 'Little Moon of Alban' is an examination of the nature of true spirituality. . . ."

Miss Harris, by the way, is no Irish. During three weeks of rehearsals she has refused to speak without a brogue. She does it so well now and has enjoyed it so much she'll regret having to give it up, she says.

The Daughters of Charity was founded in 1633 by St. Vincent de Paul, a French priest.

"He did not want his Daughters of Charity to be nuns and live a cloistered life," said Miss Harris. "He wanted them to live and work with the poor and distressed. They renew their vows every year and are free to leave the religious community every March 25th. Few ever do leave."

"Little Moon of Alban" is the third "Hall of Fame" production in which she has appeared under the direction of George Schaefer. Co-starred with her are Christopher Plummer, Barry Jones, Frank Conroy and George Peppard.

In the Manhattan brownstone house where she and her husband live with their two-year-old son, Peter, she finds little time to look at television.
